FEI ForwardThinking: Four Challenges, Four Leaders

The Financial Education and Research Foundation (FERF), in cooperation with Robert Half | Protiviti, will hold live, in-depth Q&A discussions with FEI members who have seen their industries and world upended overnight, and they'll share how they plan to navigate the unclear road ahead. Complimentary for FEI members, each session is worth 1 CPE credit.

FEI San Antonio Chapter PD Session: "Reopening & Recovery: The State of the Economy & The New Technology Environment" - Thursday July 21, 10:00 am to 12:00 pm EDT

Session 1: The State of the Economy - Presented by Kevin Depew, RSM Deputy Chief Economist

With unemployment rates nearing depression levels, business and industry shut-downs and an economy facing depression-like shocks, businesses and communities are facing uncertain times amid the Coronavirus pandemic.

Session 2: The New Technology Environment - Presented by George Kohlhofer, RSM Director of Technology Infrastructure Consulting

Many organizations have quickly adapted to all or parts of their teams working remotely, but not necessarily in a secure and efficient manner.

FEI members from across the country are welcome to attend. This program offers 2.0 CPE credits and is open at no charge to FEI members and non-members. All attendees should register at the San Antonio Chapter registration site to receive the webinar link and be eligible to earn CPE credit. Register here.

For additional questions, please contact FEI San Antonio Chapter Administrator Deborah Stine at admin@feisanantonio.org or (210) 383-5166.
